Adopted Road Description	Commencing at its double junction with the Invershin - Lochinver road (A837), its southern junction being at a point 78 metres (85 linear yards) south west of the River Inver Bridge crossing, extending north westerly approximately 50 metres (55 linear yards). Its northern junction commencing 16 metres (18 linear yards) north east of the aforementioned river crossing, extending south westerly for approximately 82 metres (90 linear yards) to join the southern branch, a single lane road with verges on each side. At the double junction loop a double track road extends in a generally westerly direction for a distance of 919 metres (1006 linear yards), the first 640 metres (700 linear yards) has a contiguous footway on one side and a verge on the other, thereafter the road bifurcates. At a point 52 metres (57 linear yards) east of the bifurcation is a double lane spur road with footways on each side. The road extends in a southerly then easterly direction to its termination in a turning head at the Highland Stoneware Factory, a distance of 183 metres (200 linear yards). At the bifurcation, the road becomes a single lane road with passing places and verges on each side. The road extends i) in a south westerly direction to its termination in a turning head, a distance of 630 metres (689 linear yards) and ii) in a north westerly direction to its termination in a turning head a distance of 649 metres (710 linear yards). Giving an overall distance of 2514 metres (1 mile 990 linear yards) or thereby. No parking areas are included in the foregoing. The road verges extend to adjacent boundary fences or walls, or in open ground to a distance of 3.0 metres from the edge of the surfaced carriageway or passing place or to the top of slope in cutting or the bottom of slope in embankment whichever distance is greatest.
