Local contractor kick starts main building work

After successful completion of the enabling works, which included: creation of a new temporary playground, establishment of the site perimeter and diversion of existing drainage; we are pleased to announce that the main site new school levelling works are now underway!

The top soil is currently being removed from the site (some of which is being retained for use in the development, with the rest being taken from site for local agricultural use) and the ground is being re-levelled to receive the concrete foundations.

Local contractors and family business, John Gunn and Sons are working with us to deliver the above.
