Dear Mr Stott, thank you for the reply to my enquiry. The Community Council discussed and recorded in the minutes the eight areas of land which they think are important to retain un-developed within the village boundary.

I have numbered them on the attached map and are as follows.

1. The tennis courts and adjacent sports field.
2. The area previously used as a bowling green.
3. The grassed area around the toilets on Stuart Street.
4. The entire grass play area adjacent to the primary school.
5. The grass recreational playing field at the junction of Nairn Road and Stuart Street.
6. The grass area adjacent to 50 Stuart Street at the shore as it currently stands.
7. The entire grass and gravel area in the vicinity of the slipway.
8. The grass area adjacent to the agricultural garage towards the cottage boundaries.

Should any of these need further clarification please let me know,
Alisdair McKay

Mr McKay - further to your query below - if you wish to suggest a site for development or protection you should do so as soon as possible (the deadline was the end of April 2011 but I've been allowing community councils a longer time period).

If however you wish to react to someone else's idea (those on the web site) then you should not comment on these until the formal, first draft (Main Issues Report) of the Plan (the Inner Moray Firth Local Development Plan) has been issued. This will be done at the start of 2012 and will be accompanied by plenty of publicity. If the site you're concerned with goes further (into the finalised "Proposed Plan" draft) you can then (end of 2012) lodge formal objection to it and have that objection heard by the Scottish Government.

I as a member of a community council have looked over the list of sites put forward for development and wonder whether CC's should make comments now or wait until the revised HWDP is re-published for consultation.
