Intention – Whilst working with Partners, enhance Road Safety across the Highland Area

Road Traffic Operations/Campaigns	The Festive Drink/Drug Drive Campaign 2018 ran between 1 December and 2 January 2019. Police Scotland N Division is committed to achieving the Scottish Government's 2020 casualty reduction targets. Increasing awareness of the risks associated with drink/drug driving supports the Force's efforts to reduce road casualties. The campaign was conducted through a combination of intelligence-led high visibility patrols and static road checks. Two drink drivers reported in the South Highland area. Over 3000 vehicles stopped by police in N Division during the campaign. Numbers across the Division were slightly down, however there is a trend emerging amongst males in their twenties featuring at a higher percentage than expected.

Operation Cedar - Operation CEDAR (Challenge, Educate, Detect and Reduce) builds on established practices and will focus on various agencies working in partnership to reduce the number of people killed and seriously injured in the area. Operation CEDAR involves proactive multi-agency enforcement operations on the roads, which will sit alongside education activity aimed at improving the behaviour of drivers of all ages behind the wheel.

Partner agencies will also work together to gain a greater understanding of the factors which could be used to improve the safety of everyone on the roads and together respond to these issues.

Ultimately Operation Cedar also serves to support the Highland Road Casualty Reduction Group, as we work to keep the Highland economy moving and support healthy living. Historically, the long term trend across Highland has remained fairly static, for the 2018 calendar year the number of persons killed on Highland roads would indicate an increase.

It is vital that death and injury on Highland roads continue to be tackled effectively by all agencies. We all recognise that the way in which we drive, ride and use our roads whether for business or recreation plays a huge part in avoiding us, our dependents and staff from becoming a road casualty. As a partnership we are committed to doing all we can to improve safety and reduce the number of persons killed and injured on our roads.

In 2009, the NKBL National Delivery Team at YouthLink Scotland and the Scotlish Government began supporting partners in 11 selected local authority areas to implement NKBL.

The approach to prevention is informed by the principles and values of youth work and a public health approach to violence prevention. Meaning the focus is not just on what it is we don't want young people to do and how to stop them doing it, but also what we do want young people to be able to do, how we support them to understand and navigate risk and to make positive life choices. Sessions took place in South Highland during October. Police Prevention & Intervention officer supported this initiative.

APPENDIX B

Police Scotland is encouraging residents in the Highlands & Islands to sign up to a free app which provides community alerts of a person with dementia has been reported missing.

Purple Alert was launched by Alzheimer Scotland last year and creates a way of sharing information which could help return vulnerable people home safely.

The app - endorsed by Police Scotland - works best if a number of people in a community have downloaded it in order to share details and possible sighting of the missing person.

To find out more about Purple Alert or to download the app, visit - www.dementiacircle.org and click on the Purple Alert icon.

APPENDIX C

The Herbert Protocol is here to give you some reassurance and help keep your loved ones safe. The system provides the police with everything they need to know to search for the person living with the dementia.

It's a form that is kept at home containing important information regarding known routines, habits as well as descriptions of your friend/relative and details of their and others involved with their care. It can be handed to Police so that you do not have to worry about gathering the information during what can be a very stressful time.
