Introduction: Local and National Context

Ro-ràdh: Co-theacsa Ionadail agus Nàiseanta

This Standards and Quality Report is influenced by both Highland and national priorities. These can be summarised as follows:

Highland Priorities

National Improvement Framework Priorities

Entitlement, Excellence & Equity:

We will raise attainment and achievement for all, especially for children and young people from disadvantaged circumstances, including rural deprivation. We will focus relentlessly on improving standards and the quality of learning and teaching, to ensure that entitlement, equity and excellence are delivered across the system.

Empowerment & Leadership:

We will develop leadership skills at all levels of the system, for now and the future, building a culture of empowerment and professional capital.

Relationships:

We will maximise health and wellbeing for all children and young people, to give them the best possible start in life. We will ensure every child and young person feels part of the community they live in.

Opportunity:

We will maximise opportunities for our children and young people, and for the wider Highland community and its visitors, through the provision of high-quality services.

The key priorities outlined in the National Improvement Framework are:

- Placing the human rights and needs of every child and young person at the centre of education
- Improvement in children and young people's health and wellbeing
- Closing the attainment gap between the most and least disadvantaged children and young people
- Improvement in skills and sustained, positive school-leaver destinations for all young people
- Improvement in attainment, particularly in literacy and numeracy.

Self-evaluation

To support self-evaluation, quality indicators from the national evaluative framework How Good Is Our School?<sup>4</sup> are referenced.

We are pleased to present our Standards and Quality Report for Session 2024-25. This report provides important information regarding our school's progress to date and our next steps in school improvement.

Self-evaluation for self-improvement is at the heart of what we do. We continue to develop our practice in making robust use of evidence as a basis for judgements regarding the impact of our work on our learners. All staff understand that self-evaluation is an integral aspect of our approach to continuous improvement through addressing the 3 key questions:

- How well are we doing?
- How do we know?
- What are we going to do now?

Throughout the year we continuously evaluate what we do and how it makes a difference to our learners. We want to know what is working well for our school community and what needs further improvement. We inform decision making and actions through a continuous process of looking inwards, outwards and forwards.

Looking inwards - starts with those working with our children and young people

We focus on the impact on outcomes for learners. Our self-evaluation processes triangulate information, data, people's views and observation of practice to measure impact and inform planning for improvement.

Looking outwards - learning from others

Looking to others for new ideas that challenge our practice and support continuous improvement allows us to learn from what works and what doesn't. This includes practice in other schools, learning communities and learning from educational research.

Looking forwards - creating a vision and planning for implementation

Through leadership at all levels, we anticipate challenges and explore creative solutions. This helps us to create an aspirational vision for our school which shapes our actions and provides a focus for improvement.

Our children and young people are actively consulted and involved in this process. We also give staff, parents/carers, and other partners the opportunity to participate in discussions and activities to shape our improvement journey.

When we develop our improvement plan, we use key questions at scheduled review times throughout the session to know how well we are progressing towards achieving these positive outcomes and changes.

Together we are working hard to ensure the Highlands is the best place for children and young people to grow up safely, learn, develop and achieve.

With positive experiences, our children and young people will always see the Highlands as home.

Ath-sgrùdadh air adhartas airson an t-seisein

These projects are linked to the vision and priorities for Scottish Education based on delivering excellence and equity. Parent/Carer information is available here.

School Priority:

Action Plan 1 – Our School, Our Curriculum

Purpose:

- We have been working hard to develop our Curriculum at Muirtown and want to further develop this good work to ensure we offer all our children the best opportunities we can.
- We have participated in the National Writing Programme throughout session 23/24, with a focus on first level. We can see the positive results of this engagement and want to develop this further by extending the programmes strategy to further stages of our school.
- We have a number of children who experience difficulties with certain aspects of literacy. We want to upskill our teaching staff so that they are best equipped to support these difficulties, so we have signed up to take part in Literacy For All training.
- UNCRC is becoming law in Scotland from June 24 and we want to ensure that our curriculum and the life and ethos of our school reflects this

Our School, Our Curriculum

- Unpick various curriculum areas, giving consideration to pedagogy and ensuring that meaningful progressions and assessment approaches are in place which reflect our school community, building up our rationale.
- Explore and exemplify what the UNCRC becoming law in Scotland will mean for us in Muirtown
- Develop a whole school approach to the promotion of reading for pleasure and reading for information.
- Embed and extend the principles of the National Writing Programme pedagogy.
- Continue work developing our digital curriculum rationale.

Engage in whole school Literacy For All training, embedding key strategies to support literacy skill development.

Progress:

UNCRC

- All staff (including teaching, ELC, Clerical and support) have taken part in training linked to the UNCRC and have had opportunities to explore strategies and resources to support exploring childrens rights within the curriculum.

Impact:

- Staff feel upskilled in relation to the UNCRC and are confident to integrate links to children's rights to teaching and learning opportunities. Progressions and policies have begun to be updated to reflect the principles of the UNCRC.
- Staff professional development on the UNCRC has led to an increasingly consistent and rights-respecting approach to classroom management.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>There is an increased knowledge and understanding of the UNCRC throughout our school community.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>School has been accredited as a Gold Rights Respecting School, which has raised the profile of rights throughout our school community.</li> </ul>  <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Children in school are able to discuss their rights and are aware that they are Rights Holders and that the adults who support them to access their rights are known as Duty Bearers.</li> <li>Children have access to posters and books which provide information about their rights and have been involved in co-constructing our school participation strategy.</li> <li>Parents have had opportunities to engage with UNCRC articles through hands on activities at Parent Council meetings, open afternoons and at Parent Evenings.</li> <li>Parents report a greater understanding and appreciation of the school's commitment to children's rights.</li> <li>The school and ELC environment visually reflects a commitment to children's rights, through displays and charters.</li> <li>ELC profile folders evidence learning through rights</li> </ul>
Curriculum RME <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>RME progressions have been reviewed and updated, with links being made to the UNCRC and key events within the life and ethos of our school.</li> <li>RME How To Guide created as part of our Curriculum Rationale to support learning and teaching.</li> </ul>	Curriculum RME <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Staff have all engaged in professional discussions about RME, which has resulted in increased confidence in this area of the curriculum. Reading For Pleasure

- A positive reading culture is evident across all stages of our ELC and School

Reading

- We have been accredited as a Silver Reading School with the Scottish Book Trust and are making good progress towards Gold.

Children are increasingly initiating conversations about books with peers and adults, spontaneously recommending titles, sharing their reading experiences and requesting new books for the library.

Feedback from focus groups and reading clubs reveals that children are developing stronger personal preferences for books, genres and authors, and articulating reasons for their choices.

There is a marked increase in children choosing to read during 'free choice' time in the classroom and playground via our Book Bus.

Parents report that their children are more enthusiastic about reading at home and are actively seeking out books, with graphic novels being particularly popular.

Parents of children with English as an Additional Language have helped to create reading recommendation lists in their home languages.

All classes have engaged in at least two author sessions, either in person or online.

A growing number of families are engaging with library services.

A lunch time graphic novel club has been established due to pupil demand. This is very well attended.

Whole school involvement in reading events such as World Book Day and Book Week Scotland.

Staff are more aware of how to access resources such as Authors Live sessions to promote reading for pleasure in their classrooms.

Children across the school and ELC are recognised for reading successes by Star Reader Awards, organised by our pupil Reading Champs.

- New positive partnerships in place to help support our reading for pleasure agenda.

- Jen Grange from Scottish Book Trust has delivered CPD sessions to all EYPs, PSAs and teaching staff.

Asuka from Inverness Library has delivered CPD to teaching staff, raising awareness of services on

Parent feedback on children's written work is very positive. Good progress is being made in this area and we will continue to build on this next session.

Next steps:

- To revisit the Why, How and What of our curriculum as an important driver for our curriculum rationale
- Focus on the A,B,C of education (Attendance, Attainment, ASN, Behaviour, Curriculum) ensuring they are at the heart of everything we do and are reflected in our policies, progressions and how to guides.
- To further review and ensure our curriculum reflects the diversity of our society and the principles of the UNCRC
- Build on our success from Seachdain na Gaidhlig by reviewing our 1+2 provision
- To ensure all children are known, included and challenged everyday within our school
- To review the opportunities we offer for outdoor learning and to further develop this area of our curriculum
- To continue to embrace opportunities for community links and partnership working to support all aspects of our curriculum
- To review and evaluate our new RME progressions, updating as necessary
- To ensure opportunities for moderation, both within and outwith school.
- To embed use of literacy rubrics to support assessments
- To update tracking processes in light of new ACEL Seemis codings.

- To continue our work developing our school library areas.
- To develop digital skills within ELC to support and enhance learning
- To support a consistent approach to digital learning across our school, exploring how it can be used to support access the curriculum for individual children.

School Priority:

Action Plan 2 – Supporting Engagement For All

Purpose:

- We have been working hard to develop opportunities for pupil participation. This action plan aims to enhance this good work further to ensure all children have a voice in the life and ethos of our school, thus ensuring all children feel that school supports them to be heard (This links to Action Plan 1 exploring UNCRC)
- Metaskills have been introduced through assemblies and class discussions throughout session 23/24. We now want to build on this work to support all children to understand the different skills they are developing both within school and through their wider achievements. A fuller understanding of their skills development will support our children to be more fully engaged in their learning, being able to both evaluate and set next steps for their personal development.
- The above Metaskill work will link into our pupil profiles. Senior pupils will further develop this work as digital profiles, using Google Sites.
- A recent parent survey revealed that some parents feel they would value further information about how they can support their child's learning at home and more opportunities for engagement over the school year. They would also like more information about how their child is assessed in their learning. This action plan will support us to work with parents to create a calendar of engagement which will support them to fully engage in the life and ethos of our school and to support their child's learning journey. It will also support us, through links with Educational Psychology, to be aware of training/support opportunities for parents as they become available.
- We have developed a positive and exciting relationship with Jo Chamberlain, Educational Psychology, who is going to work with us on a case study about participation following the launch of the 'Children and Young People's Participation Strategy Highland'.
- We want to ensure we are offering the best opportunities we can to engage all our learners and we know that partnership working can offer great support in this area. Through this action plan, we will embrace and further develop opportunities to engage all our children and families by making links with partners such as Educational Psychology, PMHW, Young Carers, our Military Liaison Officer, Practice Lead, Inverness Library/Bookbug, The 14 Kindness, Respect, Teamwork, Pride, Resilience Pines, Queen Margaret University Diversity Toybox, Reading Schools, Kinmylies Church Youth Leader, etc. We will also work to ensure we are doing our best to support our Looked After Children through working towards The Promise Award.

Supporting Engagement For All

- Develop use of Metaskills across our school, making links within pupil profiles
- Develop digital profiling across P5-7
- Embrace opportunities for partnership working to support individuals and groups of learners to ensure equity and excellence for all.
- Further promotion of pupil voice through leadership groups, self evaluation and classroom opportunities

- Ensure the life and ethos of our school reflects society as a whole, mirroring the experiences of our children and families and offering windows into the experiences of others, ensuring everyone feels valued
- Develop a calendar of engagement opportunities to support parent voice, helping them to become active participants in their child's learning

24/25 Action Plan

Progress:

Pupil Participation

- Pupil leadership groups were refreshed for this session, in line with pupil interests, school priorities and staff availability.

Impact:

- All children are active members of a pupil leadership group which meets fortnightly.

Pupil leadership groups have supported our children to have a positive voice within our school, local community and wider world.

Using our voices to make a difference!

One voice can make a difference!
One voice can change a village!
One voice can change a country!
One voice can change a nation!
One voice can change the world!

Article 12

The right to be heard

Article 12 says that every child has the right to express their views, feelings and wishes in all matters affecting them, and to have their views considered and taken seriously.

Pupil leadership groups are organised into lower, middle and upper groups which have worked well to promote learning opportunities for all children.

The work of our Pupil Leadership groups has resulted in us gaining a number of high profile awards, accreditations and recognition for our school: Gold Rights Respecting Schools Award; Silver Reading Schools Award; Fairtrade Award; Climate Justice Challenge artwork on display in Westminster; successful Highland Foodbank collection.

The achievements of our pupil leadership groups from across the session have been collated into a digital book and shared with parents. We have received lots of positive feedback on this work.

- Opportunities for pupil voice and participation reviewed and 'How To Guide For Pupil Voice and Participation' created.

There will be a consistent value placed on pupil voice and participation across our ELC and school.

Children feel engaged in the life and ethos of our ELC and school and know that their voice and opinions are heard and taken seriously.

Observations of children engaging in pupil leadership groups show more confident and articulate contributions from children, as they understand their right to be heard.

Staff have observed that children are more willing to express their opinions and offer constructive feedback on classroom activities and the life and ethos of our school through focus groups.

The environment and experiences offered in ELC are planned for based on children's interests and are updated regularly.

Evidence from surveys and focus groups indicates that children feel more listened to and valued within the school community.

Staff invited to be part of wider conversation about promoting participation across our local authority as a result of our work in this area.

Parental Engagement

- Opportunities for parental engagement have been reviewed and feedback was very positive.
- 100% of parents who responded to our end of session survey agreed or strongly agreed to almost all questions. The only area where parents would appreciate more input is support to understand how their child's progress is assessed. New P1 parents were surveyed on our transition arrangements. Responses were again very positive. (See graphs at end of report) High engagement levels at all parental events such as shows, open afternoons, parents evenings and sports day have been recorded.

- Embed what we have learnt from National Writing Programme across P3-P7.
- Decimals, Fractions and Percentages to be further developed
- Further work on pedagogy – what makes a good lesson in different areas – peer observations linked to moderation of SNSA/SOFA and next steps
- Literacy for all – take time to unpick key elements to support literacy difficulties
- Continue to develop approaches to profiling, building on digital profiles and learning conversations
- Use HGIOURS more explicitly across all stages to support pupil voice.
- Further develop use of Metaskills across the school, linking to profiles. Add to rationale
