Cremation authority registration number:

Name of baby (if given):

Time of cremation:

Date of cremation:

This is a statutory form, prescribed by the Cremation (Scotland) Regulations 2019. The information and questions contained in this form must not be changed.

This form must be used to apply for the cremation of a stillborn baby. A stillborn baby is a baby delivered after 24 weeks gestation without showing any signs of life.

The application is made to the cremation authority you want to carry out the cremation. The cremation authority is the organisation responsible for running the crematorium where the cremation is to take place. As the person who is applying for the cremation, you are 'the applicant'. You must have the legal right to apply for the cremation. If it is necessary to change the crematorium for any reason a new Form A2 should be completed.

The cremation authority will need to check the form to make sure it contains all of the necessary information. Missing information or information that is not accurate may result in the cremation being delayed or refused. If you are unsure about any of the information that is required, or are not sure what any part of the form means, you should speak to the funeral director who is making the arrangements, staff at the crematorium, or to any other person who is arranging the funeral. You do not have to use the services of a funeral director to arrange a cremation but where one is being used the funeral director should sign the relevant part of section 5 of this form.

Personal data

The information provided on this form is a legal requirement under the Burial and Cremation (Scotland) Act 2016 and will be processed in line with data protection legislation. The data will be held by the cremation authority that is carrying out the cremation. It will be held securely, in confidence and processed solely for purposes set out by or under the Burial and Cremation (Scotland) Act 2016. It will not be shared with any third party other than an inspector of cremation, if requested. You have the right to know what data is held about you and you can, by contacting the cremation authority in writing, receive a copy of that data. The cremation authority is obliged to include in their privacy notice how the information will be held, for how long and how you may make a complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office.

Required documents

You should ensure that you have attached to this application form the certificate of registration of stillbirth and, if the procurator fiscal has been involved, you may also need to attach a Form E1. The cremation authority must have these documents for the cremation to take place. See the Guidance Notes (a) for more information.

This section is used to record what is to happen to the ashes after cremation.

The term “ashes” means the material (other than any metal) to which human remains are reduced by cremation including the coffin and any clothing.

All necessary steps will be used in order to fully recover ashes, but in the event that ashes are not recovered, the inspector of cremation will investigate the reasons.

Metals may be recycled by the crematorium to help reduce the impact on the environment. Each crematorium will have their own practices. Should you wish to dispose of the metals in any other way then please indicate by ticking the box and metals will be returned to you within the cremated remains or separately from them.

You must choose only one of the following options (A, B or C). Please tick the box and then initial beside the option you have chosen.

Options will vary at each crematorium. For more information you can discuss with the funeral director or cremation authority the options available for ashes at your chosen crematorium or visit the crematorium’s website.
